GOVERNOR FIRM ON BUDGET CUT

Says Revised Figures Must Not Exceed Amounts He Approved Recently

SENATOR WANTS ADDITION

Finance Group Leader Suggests $1,800,000 Restoration to Executive.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 29—Gov. Davey stood pat today on his demands that state departments stay within appropriations approved for them.

Revised budgets now being prepared by various departments, he insisted, must allow for necessary functions yet not exceed amounts allotted them when he approved the biennial appropriations bill.

Gov. Davey slashed $8,800,000 from a $97,000,000 appropriations measure adopted by the last legislature.

When the executive reduced budgets he eliminated funds for many vital functions. He planned to have the state control board transfer funds from approved items to those he eliminated, but the supreme court held the board lacked authority.

Then the governor ordered departments to revise estimates. These are now being prepared by Finance Director M. Ray Allison.

Chairman William Herner of the senate finance committee announced last week a tentative revised budget. It restored $1,500,000 cut off by the governor. He said he planned to submit it to the executive.

Gov. Davey asserted that he would oppose any increase. He was uncertain whether the new budget estimates would be presented to a special session of the legislature in September or November.

To Act On Shifts

"The only thing I want the legislature to do is make the necessary transfer," he explained.

"If the total amount is boosted, it will be up to the legislature to get a three-fifths vote to override my decision—and I don't think they can do it."

Herner's program called for restoration of nearly $1,000,000 of the $1,266,500 cut from the appropriations for Ohio State university. Davey frequently had said the university must get along on the amount he specified.

The September legislative session, the governor said, would be called between Sept. 10 and 15 to consider financing old age pensions and provisions for an enabling act so that Ohio may obtain a $20,000,000 federal grant for a state building program.

Gov. Davey plans to ask the legislature to transfer $4,500,000 in state liquor profits to make pension payments during the last four months of 1935. About $5,000,000 is needed and the balance, he indicated, would be taken from the general fund.

Application for the federal grant, the executive said, probably will be sent to Washington in a few days. The legislature will be summoned when tentative U. S. approval is obtained. The legislature and supreme court must approve any loan granted by the public works administration.

TEACHERS' PENSIONS EYED BY SHERRILL

Suggests System Be Put Under Civil Service

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 29 — The Sherill government survey committee recommended today that all employes of the teachers' retirement system, except members of the board and the secretary, should be placed under civil service.

Making its fifth of six reports to Gov. Davey on the state department of education, the survey urged several changes in the administration of the retirement system.

Recommendations included: establishment of a budgetary control system, changing the title of auditor to comptroller and simplification of the accounting system, [illegible]

$600,000 WPA Fund Allotted Marion County

Announcement Is Accompanied by Call for Public Officials To List Projects Promptly, District Gets $2,000,000.

Coincident with an announcement that $600,000 has been allotted to Marion county as its share of federal funds for new projects, WPA officials in Marion and Mansfield today called upon county, city, township and village officials to submit suggested projects at once.

All projects must be submitted no later than Sept. 15 to the district WPA office in Mansfield. It was announced by Earl A. Nist of that city, WPA director for a district made up of Marion, Ashland, Crawford, Delaware, Holmes, Knox, Morrow, Richland, Wayne and Wyandot counties. He said a total of $2,000,000 has been allotted for the district.

Mr. Nist urged officials of subdivisions of the county to get in touch with O. N. Essex, assistant field engineer in charge of WPA activities in Marion county, at county relief headquarters if they have suggested projects in mind.

Prompt Action Sought

Mr. Essex this morning joined Mr. Nist in emphasizing the importance of prompt action on the part of the subdivisions to prepare a list of projects before Sept. 10.

The WPA, Mr. Essex said, is offering generous terms to the local subdivisions on proposed projects. He said the WPA is willing to furnish from 25 to 40 per cent of the material and equipment costs on a project in addition to furnishing all labor, leaving only 60 to 75 per cent and equipment costs for local subdivisions to pay.

Mr. Essex also sounded a warning of serious consequences if local subdivisions fail to cooperate in the WPA program. The federal government, he said, has indicated it will place complete responsibility for care of employable relief clients back on the local subdivisions in cases where the subdivisions refuse to cooperate.

In most cases it's a choice of whether the local subdivisions will spend a reasonable amount of money for WPA projects at this time or spend three or four times that amount later caring for the men who would have been eligible for jobs under this program, he said.

Additional Allowance

The $600,000 allotted Marion county, he continued, is in addition to the WPA projects that already have been approved and started. He estimated roughly that 12 projects totaling $127,000 are already approved.

The type of project required for WPA work will be construction or reconstruction on any public property, Mr. Essex said. He said the importance of the project will be judged on the amount of benefit socially and economically the local community will derive from the project.

Mr. Essex said he is anxious to impress upon all county, township, village and city officials the importance of getting projects filed as promptly as possible and may call a countywide meeting early next week to stimulate activity in the preparation of sufficient projects to absorb the $600,000 allocation for the county.

As he made this announcement he and Mayor Clarence A. Boyd were preparing to go into conference this afternoon to discuss possible city projects under the new program.

DAVEY PONDERS NEW PEN SETUP

Would Make London Unit Dual Institution If U. S. Funds Are Obtained

HOUSE FIRST OFFENDERS

Proposal Based on Report of Col. Light and Frazier Reams of Lucas Co.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 29—Ohio may get a new penal system.

Gov. Davey indicated such a move would be made if Ohio gets a $20,000,000 federal loan for a state building program.

A formal request for such a grant now is being prepared. It may be sent to Washington in a few days. The executive on a recent visit to Washington obtained President Roosevelt's approval of the program.

Certain of the funds, if the program is carried out, would go to making the London prison farm into a dual institution, Davey said. The farm would continue to have an honor camp where prisoners are free from constant supervision. It also would be converted into a prison for first offenders.

To Continue Penitentiary

Gov. Davey has no present plans for discontinuing the century-old penitentiary in Columbus. Under his proposed policy it would continue to house hardened criminals and habitual offenders.

A penal system such as this is in line with recommendations

BELIEVE ARRESTS TO HALT PURSE GRABBING

Two Boys Admit Taking Purses While Autoists Visit Memorial.

The recent wave of purse stealing from automobiles parked at the Harding Memorial is believed broken up with the capture yesterday afternoon of two 15-year-old Marion boys at the Memorial.

The boys were arrested by Police Capt. F. C. Mackan and Patrolman Harry Tong. Captain Mackan has been working on the theft cases for some time and has paid frequent visits to the vicinity of the Memorial in an effort to apprehend the thieves.

The boys were reported to have admitted looting tourist automobiles parked in the vicinity while occupants were visiting the Memorial. One of the pair also admitted snatching a purse from a woman's hand about a month ago.

Both youths were involved in the theft of pictures of motion picture stars and other advertising matter from the display racks in the Ohio theater lobby last October. One of them also was apprehended a year ago on a charge of shooting fire arms in the city.

The youths were to be questioned by Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast, who is expected to give a decision in the case within the next day or two.

ROOSEVELT OKAYS FARM MORATORIUM

Measure Will Replace Law Recently Declared Unconstitutional

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—President Roosevelt today signed the Frazier-Lemke three-year farm mortgage moratorium bill, designed to replace the law declared unconstitutional by the supreme court last spring.

The measure permits debt-burdened farmers to go into federal court and obtain moratoriums of as much as three years on their mortgages. During that time their property in effect would be under court control.

Farmers are allowed to remain in possession of their land during the moratorium but must pay a "fair" rental either every six months or at the end of each year as the court may decide.

At the end of the moratorium property which has been protected by it must be reappraised by the courts or on court order.

The farmers then may clear their land by payment of the appraised value. But if they fail to do so, secured creditors can obtain court orders directing that the secured property be sold at public auction.

Rep. Lemke, Republican of North Dakota, co-author, has described the act as giving "a breathing spell" to the farmers.

The President also signed the railroad pension act.

The pension act sets up a new rail pension system but provides no finances for it. Another bill on the President's desk would levy taxes of 3½ per cent each on rail payrolls and employes' incomes to pay the pensions.

CURTIS SUPPORTS LANDON FOR PRESIDENTIAL RACE

Denies Reports Aligning Him with Col. Knox of Chicago; Waits for Kansan To Toss Hat in Ring.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—Former Vice President Curtis declared today for Gov. Landon of Kansas to be the 1936 Republican presidential nominee.

His position was given in an interview in which he denied published reports aligning him on the side of Col. Frank Knox of Illinois.

"I'm for Gov. Landon of Kansas if he is a candidate," said Curtis, himself a Kansan.

"I have never joined up with the Knox movement, though I have a high regard for him. [illegible] Landon is a candidate."

Although Gov. Landon never has declared he was a candidate, friends have kept active on his behalf.

Curtis' support of Landon was not unexpected, as he has worked closely with the Republican organization in his home state. He has never been one of the "Hoover" Republican circles [illegible]

IL DUCE WARNS BRITAIN NOT TO ASK SANCTIONS

Says Such Step Would Mean Trouble, Will Denounce Ethiopia Before League

FINANCE DECREES ISSUED

Italian Cabinet Assures British Their Rights Will Be Respected in Africa

By The Associated Press

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY, BOLZANO, Italy, Aug. 29—Warning to Great Britain to go slow at the League of Nations council session for consideration of the Italy-Ethiopian conflict next Wednesday was seen by political observers today in the communique of the Italian cabinet setting forth its case against Ethiopia.

After an extraordinary meeting here near the manoeuvre battle field, Il Duce's cabinet issued before the world (1) an admonition to Great Britain that sanctions mean serious trouble, (2) a determination to attack Ethiopia at the council session and (3) fundamental economic decrees to finance a war with the African empire.

Also Assure British

The cabinet gave assurance that British imperial rights would not be touched by the Italian program, but political circles found of great import its one paragraph in a communique which disclosed that Italy had already decided upon the military measures it would take in case of sanctions.

"In any event," said the communique, "the Fascist government fulfills its precise duty by making known to the Italian people that the problem of sanctions has been examined by the highest military authorities of the regime under all aspects and that as regards eventual sanctions of a warlike nature decisions and measures necessary to face them have been taken already some time ago."

The communique is regarded as having placed the situation squarely up to Great Britain.

The cabinet said a more extensive memorandum will be submitted to the league council.

To Include Other Views

"This memorandum," the communique stated, "will be accompanied by small but most recent and well chosen literature by English, German and French writers depicting Ethiopia as she is in her chaotic condition of retrograde slave holding, ruled with no central power."

The Fascist government thinks her colonial question should not have reacted on the European situation unless one wishes to run the danger of letting loose a new world war in order to prevent a great power like Italy from bringing order to a vast country where the most atrocious slavery and the most primitive conditions of existence reign.

Reunion Is Held by Club Organized 59 Years Ago

One Member Leaves Hospital Bed in Order That All Founders Might Be Present.

Seven "boys" who organized the Royal Peanut association 59 years ago renewed their pledges of friendship and recalled incidents of the first picnic at the annual gathering of the association yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Bain at 182 Wallace street.

In order that the circle might be complete at the reunion, Easton E. Drown left his room at the Marion City hospital where he has been confined for the last six weeks with a fractured hip, to join the group. Mr. Drown, who is able to be about in a wheel chair, was taken to the Bain home on a truck which was transformed into a temporary ambulance.

Won't Sit for Picture

Mr. Drown, who refuses to be placed in the invalid class, put up a verbal scrap when it came to having a picture of the group taken. Grouped in the yard by a Star staff photographer, he emphatically refused to sit in the wheel chair and permit the others to be grouped about him, but insisted on taking his place with the rest. He remained for practically all of the program which followed the dinner hour. Mr. Drown is a former Marion county sheriff.

Present at the picnic were two of the eight girls who attended the first picnic of the association, families of the members and a number of friends.

A picnic dinner at which covers were placed for about 40, a short business session and program completed the day.

The seven "boys" of more than half a century ago joined hands in a circle as they responded to roll call at the opening of the program hour. Their combined ages totaled 563 years.

List of "the boys"

The "boys" are J. Wesley Baker of Agosta, W. P. LaRue of LaRue, F. M. Hochstetler of Kissimmee, Fla., A. N. LaRue of Richwood, Milton H. Bain of East Center street, E. E. Drown of McWilliams court, and Addison Bain, the host.

The "girls" who were members of the first picnic group present yesterday were Mrs. Louise Hochstetler Cull of Marion and Mrs. Jennie Bain Wilson of Richwood. A third, Mrs. Frank Taneyhill LaRue of Columbus, was unable to be present. The three are the only ones of the group of eight girls at the first picnic who are living.

The association grew from an idea which originated when several of the "boys" [illegible] met at Agosta [illegible] after [illegible] One of the group suggested it would be "fun" to take the girls for a day's outing, the food to be prepared by the latter.

Flags bedecked the horses' harness and occupied places of prominence on the buggies in observance

NATIONAL AIR RACES TO OPEN TOMORROW

Four Days of Aerial Excitement Planned for Cleveland Folk

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 29—Followers of the air races prepared for stiff necks, eye strain and four days of excitement today.

The national air races open tomorrow and until Monday night the sky above Cleveland will be the background for flying acrobats, army, navy and marine maneuvers, parachute jumpers, speed pilots and precision fliers—a severe test for necks unaccustomed to backward bending.

Some time Friday afternoon the transcontinental speed dash will reach the grandstand at Cleveland airport. Prizes totaling $10,000 await the first five fliers to arrive in Cleveland from Los Angeles.

An additional $2,500 is offered for the flier who continues on to New York and breaks the Los Angeles-New York air record held by Col. Roscoe Turner. The record is 10 hours and 2 minutes. Eight fliers are entered in this race, known as the Bendix trophy race.

KING SLIGHTLY HURT IN MISHAP ON SWISS ROAD

Monarch Turns His Head To Look at Map and Car Leaves Highway

STRIKES CURB, THEN TREE

Victim Dies in Husband's Arms as He Pleads with Her To Speak to Him.

(Copyright 1935 by The Associated Press)

KUSSNACHT, Switzerland, Aug. 29—Astrid, 29-year-old Queen of the Belgians, was fatally injured today when the automobile her husband, King Leopold, was driving swerved off a country road and hit a tree.

She died within five minutes in her king's arms and with his lips on hers.

The king was only slightly injured. The couple's chauffeur, who was riding in the rear seat while his master drove, suffered minor injuries.

Say King Turned His Head

Attendants who followed in another car said they saw their monarch turn his head for an instant as he drove at a rate of between 50 and 55 miles an hour along the sunny road beside the lake called Vier Waldstaetter See.

The touring car swung to the side of the road, hit an eight-inch curb and careened into a tree, then rolled into the shallow lake just eight feet from the road.

All three of the occupants were thrown out of the automobile.

The queen was thrown against another tree, fracturing her skull. The king's face was cut by the smashing windshield. Momentarily stunned, he picked himself up and went to the side of the Swedish princess he married nearly nine years ago.

Begs Her to Speak

Leopold held Astrid in his arms, kissed her again and again, and begged her to speak to him. She barely moved. It was impossible to tell whether she recognized him.

The cure of a village church just outside Kussnacht came to them. He administered extreme unction.

Then, as the king still held her close, Astrid died.

The king himself straightened her body and smoothed her clothes.

The royal attendants, a gentleman and lady in waiting and the chauffeur of the car in which they had been riding, covered the still form with their coats.

King Leopold told members of his entourage that he had taken his eyes off the road to glance at a map the queen was holding. He said she was sitting in the front seat beside him with the chauffeur in the rear.

"I leaned over to look at the map," the members of the party said the king told them. "It lasted only a second and when I looked again at the road the car was almost on top of a tree."

The king said both he and the queen were thrown out of the car at the first shock and that the queen's head struck a tree, fracturing her skull.

Strikes Two Trees

The royal attendants said the king's automobile rebounded, struck a second tree, then hurtled into the lake with the chauffeur still inside.

The latter climbed out and waded ashore with only minor cuts.

The attendants, whose car was about one minute behind the royal couple, found the king and queen lying by the side of the road. Apparently there were no eyewitnesses to the accident.

The tragedy struck at about 11:30 a. m. (5:30 a. m. Marion time).

Peasants Call for Help

Peasants nearby immediately telephoned to Kussnacht for help. A doctor arrived within five minutes after the queen died. Leopold kissed the dead Astrid once more, then was taken away in the doctor's car to have his wounds dressed. Afterwards he was taken to the villa Haslihorn.

After her king had gone, Astrid's body lay beside the fatal tree, still covered with the coats. It was watched for a full hour by the bare-

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Thymus

STATUS LYMPHATICUS is the medical term for a strange and unusual disease. It is a very serious ailment but need not be fatal. This condition has been recognized for many years and is known to be associated with a disturbance of the thymus gland.

The thymus is a glandular structure located just below the thyroid gland in the neck, in the region we call the Adam's Apple. It is a delicate structure and usually weighs less than an ounce, although at birth the gland may weigh as much as two ounces. During the first five years of life it progressively diminishes in size. In fact, it may shrink rapidly and entirely disappear before puberty.

The exact function of this gland is not known. Extensive studies are being conducted in an effort to solve this puzzling problem of medical science. But this research has furnished us with considerable knowledge concerning status lymphaticus.

As I have said, there is a disorder of the thymus gland. For some reason it suddenly enlarges. It may actually become five to ten times its normal size. As a result of this enlargement there is pressure on the throat, with marked difficulty in breathing. Since the disturbance occurs in early childhood the young sufferer is in great danger.

When the condition or a tendency to it exists, a trifling fall or twist of the body may lead to sudden death of the child. Young children who show signs of difficult breathing, as well as those who suffer abnormally from minor blows, should be examined for enlargement of the thymus gland. Such symptoms should always arouse suspicion that status lymphaticus exists.

This disorder can be accurately determined by a simple X-ray picture. Once the true nature of the disturbance is recognized, measures can be taken to guard against those accidents and mishaps which may have dangerous effects.

The thymus gland can be reduced in size by X-ray treatment. Until the gland is so reduced and the child no longer has difficulty in breathing, every precaution must be enforced.

Children with thymus enlargement are considered poor surgical risks. They should not be subjected to any surgical procedure, such as removal of the tonsils and adenoids. Of course this danger is removed after the child reaches puberty and the gland shrinks.

Fortunately, this old ailment is extremely rare. But it is so serious we should not disregard the possibility of its presence.

The Stars Say--

For Friday, Aug. 30

A VERY ACTIVE, lively and pleasant day is forecast from the dominant lunar aspects. There is likely to be much stirring about or commotion, possibly in the furtherance of social, domestic or affectional functions, with an element of youth and its avocations conspicuous. Business and new undertakings will also flourish with those in place and power sure to be fully aiding and abetting. It is an auspicious time for all intellectual and artistic pursuits.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a very lively, pleasant and progressive year, with all intellectual and artistic matters flourishing. However, there are signs of pleasure and enjoyment holding preponderance in the activities, with young people and their avocations very conspicuous.

A child born on this day may be versatile and talented in all intellectual and artistic pursuits and should reach high place and popularity through its graces and efficiency.

SALES TAX STAMP MAY BE ELIMINATED

By The Associated Press

SANDUSKY, Aug. 29.—Rep. William Hullett of Cuyahoga county said last night that he planned to introduce at the next session of the legislature an amendment to the sales tax law to do away with the coupon feature.

CONSTIPATION LEADS TO FORTY SERIOUS AILMENTS

But Read How A New Medicine That Works With Your Food Relieves Constipation by Natural Means. It Is Called Indo-Vin.

A new mixture of Medicinal Ingredients has been found which has a natural action upon the bowels and stomach. It is not a drug, not a patent medicine, but a scientific formula that works with the sufferer's food, known as Indo-Vin, now being introduced to crowds daily here in Marion by the Indo-Vin Man in person at Eckerd's Drug Store, 140 S. Main St.

WHAT INDO-VIN IS

It is a medicine of Nature's plants containing a combination of ingredients found in no other known formula. These ingredients mix with the food in one's stomach and in throwing off the poisons that foster stomach disorders and permit the liver and bowels to function properly. It will cleanse your bowels gradually, not drastic or severe, as they were never cleansed before, and tone them into better daily action.

It will work on those gases and impurities (frequently from the first dose) which may have been inside you for a long time. It will help remove poisons that have caused you many days of misery with headaches, dizzy spells, skin eruptions, foul breath and rheumatic affliction.

Indo-Vin will clear your stomach and intestines of old gas, sourness, fermentation and other impure matter which forms a coating on the linings, frequently being the real cause of trouble with digestion.

The Indo-Vin Man is now at Eckerd's Drug Store, 140 S. Main St., here in Marion daily, meeting the public and introducing and explaining this new mixture of Nature's Medicines. Also being sold in all the nearby towns by every good druggist throughout this whole section.—Adv.

[illegible] SYNOPSIS [illegible]

Emily [illegible] [illegible] Judith [illegible] at the [illegible]

* * *

CHAPTER 34
About Judith

"I'M SORRY," Emily said finally, laying a hand on his. "I wish I could say I'd marry you, but I can't. I don't want to marry anyone yet and I don't love you that way."

"But you do like me? And there's no one else?"

"No," she said. "There's no one else." Nothing, she thought, but the memory of an ecstasy that was very different from this—an ecstasy that hadn't endured.

"I'm perfectly willing to wait," he said eagerly, as if she hadn't known that. "I've always loved you and I always will, but I don't want to hurry you. I just wanted you to know it, and I hoped that [illegible] you might love me."

"I'm sorry," she said again. "I wish I could say I did."

"Will you try?" he pleaded.

After all, loving Edwin would make existence a much simpler thing. Loving Edwin would probably solve all the problems that were tormenting her. "If you told him perhaps you wouldn't notice his little peculiarities [illegible] then wouldn't mind."

"Yes," she said at last. "I'll try. But I'd rather not talk about it any more for a long time. If I ever find that I can care about you, I promise to tell you."

"And you aren't mad with me for telling you? Nothing will be changed?"

"No," she said slowly, "nothing will be changed."

She wondered in sudden despair if anything would ever be changed.

He got out of the car then and went with her to the doorway. "It's been wonderful to be with you," he said haltingly. "May I see you tomorrow night?"

Tomorrow and tomorrow. But if you didn't see Edwin, what else was there? "Yes," she said.

He held her hand for several seconds, but to her infinite relief he made no move to take her in his arms. He would keep his word scrupulously, she knew.

Then he went back to his car and drove away.

* * *

Her predictions to Jock Cushing were justified. They organized a bridge club of two tables that was to meet once a week for luncheon. It was decided that every one should put up 5 cents a meeting, which was to be given to the winner instead of a prize.

"But for heaven's sake don't say anything about it," Eleanor Mobley had laughed, "or our fond parents would have a stroke. They'd have no objection to our winning a box of powder that didn't match our complexions or a pair of stockings that didn't fit, but this is gambling."

Every one laughed and no one mentioned it at home.

Even the girl scout troop materialized. Emily, having nothing else to do, they said, was the ideal person to take charge.

She accepted the charge and spent hours learning to tie six kinds of knots and to make a fire with no paper and only one match. The girls adored her and wanted to spend all the time that wasn't taken up with school and scouting at her house, but the tasks filled endless hours that would have dragged, and their devotion was soothing to her pride.

She rebelled at the Woman's Club. They needed new blood and new enthusiasm, they said, but she decided that there were plenty of years ahead for that.

And so she laughingly resisted Frances' attempts to enlist her interest.

"This was to be my year of play, darling. Before long I'll have to go back to Ardmore to get some rest. Give me a year or two of grace and then I'll give up frivolity and turn my attention to civic problems."

And Frances, who had the gift of yielding in relatively unimportant things the better to win in important ones, had dropped the subject.

Occasionally she helped out at the Elston Public Library. The library was small and struggling, but she loved the contact with books and with people who came to read them.

A mutual love of books was as strong a tie as children or golf, and she managed very tactfully to introduce a few discriminating readers to her own favorite authors, thereby earning their lasting gratitude. If boredom ever overwhelmed her she had decided that the library might be the best escape that Elston had to offer.

She had given up for the present the idea of leaving home, not because of Frances's arguments but because of Jeffrey's obvious delight at having her there.

They had always loved each other deeply and almost wordlessly, but now they had discovered companionship, and Jeffrey's pleasure was accomplishing what Frances's insistence might never have achieved alone.

The two of them took long walks, talking eagerly of the things that she was discovering and that Jeffrey had known for a long time, and it seemed to him that he was happier than he had ever been before.

And because there were no crises to divide the time into periods, days slipped evenly and swiftly past, and the year of play was half over before she realized that it had begun.

* * *

Early in March Judith wrote one of her [illegible] Judith's letters arrived about once a year, a really [illegible] record, she [illegible]

There had [illegible] the letter acknowledging Emily's wedding present, and containing a vivid and [illegible] description of her home [illegible] and probably the only person alive who would put up with a crazy Carroll.

"The place was heavenly and much more scientifically run than Carrollton. Aubrey even managed with farm prices what they were to make the place pay.

"You'd like him," Judith added carelessly. "He reads things—can you imagine it? Not just market reports, but books by people I never even heard of."

In his letter, her fourth in more than three years, Judith had been ill.

"I'm still pale and interesting looking, but the pale won't last long, I'm sure. Why won't you come and see me? Of course being in school was a wonderful alibi, but I should think they could spare you for a little while now. Can't you come next month?"

Emily wanted to go, but Frances, remembering Judith's demoralizing influence, managed to circumvent her. It necessitated a counter-offer of a trip to New York with Jeffrey, and Jeffrey, an unconscious party to the conspiracy, was so eager for her company and so boyishly elated over the prospect that she accompanied him from a sense of duty.

She enjoyed the trip, even while she thought regretfully of the pleasure of seeing Judith again. But before too long she hoped she might escape from Elston, and while she stayed she wanted to do everything in her power to please Frances and Jeffrey.

It was Friday afternoon in early September, and the Board of Control of the Elston Public Library was holding its monthly meeting.

Emily looked idly out the window. It was bad enough to be a librarian on a breathless hot day like this without having to attend board meetings. She wondered for the twentieth time why they insisted upon her presence. Invariably she took issue with them and invariably they voted her down. Perhaps they insisted merely for the sadistic pleasure of voting her down.

The chairman was deploring the fact that the library's circulation had decreased. He was, to be quite frank, at a loss to explain it.

"It seems quite obvious to me," Emily had to speak in spite of the heat. She had restrained herself on this point for months. "As long as you regulate the entire fiction list on the basis of whether a book is proper reading for a child of fifteen, you can't expect anybody over fifteen to read it."

The Board looked pained. They had settled this question of Immoral Books for good, and Emily was bringing it up again.

"That isn't altogether the question of our fiction," the chairman said coldly. "It's rather the moral tone of the books that we consider."

"But so many of the most powerful novels, new as well as old," Emily said, "have a—doubtful moral tone. After all, grown people should be allowed to choose their own reading."

Tomorrow Emily makes one more attempt to break the charmed circle.

MEETING HELD BY CALEDONIA CIRCLE

Special to The Star

CALEDONIA, Aug. 29—Fifteen members responded to roll call when Deborah Rebekah Friendship circle met Tuesday at the home of Hattie and Laura Garber. Mrs. Myrtle Snyder was assistant hostess.

In the absence of the president Miss Mary Brocklesby had charge of the meeting. The names of Mrs. Florence Kightlinger, Mrs. Mamie Baird and Mrs. Elizabeth St. Kinstry were drawn for hostesses for the September meeting. Mrs. Mary Lynn, Mrs. Dawn Jeliffe, Miss Mary Brocklesby, Mrs. Belle Rinker and Mrs. Lillie Steele were named on the program committee.

During the social hour lunch was served and a program in charge of Mrs. Myrtle Snyder and Mrs. Marie Mossmore was given. Readings were given by Miss Snyder and Mrs. Marie Mossmore. Contest honors were won by Mrs. Mary Lynn and Mrs. Dawn Jeliffe. Guests were Mrs. Chester Lish and daughter Caroline of Marion, Miss Edith Ward, Jeanette and Roy Fields and Virginia Snyder.

The Red Menace

America is irritated but not alarmed at the persistence with which Communistic propaganda comes to this country from Russia with the patent approval of the Soviet government and the blunt demand that this interference be ended under pain of severing diplomatic relations comes after a long period of patient toleration.

When this country recognized the Stalin government it was with the agreement that Moscow not only would keep its red propagandists at home but would also see to it that while there they plotted no mischief against America. Commissar Litvinoff made the pledge in language which left no room for misunderstanding the promises it contained.

Russia has so far forgotten the agreement that Communists convening in Russia boast of the progress which they have made toward the revolution in America. Most of these boasts are without substantial foundation. It is easy for agents returning to Russia to report that America is adopting the tenets of the Communist International and that groups are functioning in key localities. As a matter of fact the Communist strength in this country is estimated at about 30,000 and their political influence thus far is negligible.

The activity of the agitators however is a source of irritation and of some concern. They have stirred up strife in many localities and have made themselves a hindrance to the economic and political advancement of this country.

It has been a matter of common knowledge that key men in the Communistic activities in this country were financed from abroad. Just what connection this financing had with the Russian government is hard to discover. Possibly Russia cannot stop the nuisance altogether. It can however end that part of the interference which originates within Russia for whatever else may be said of the government of the soviets it has direct and effective ways of controlling the activities of its people.

Prayer in Due Season.

There is such a thing as saying prayers at the propitious moment if one wants to be sure they will be fulfilled. The Hopi Indians from time beyond reckoning have held their annual rain prayers accompanied by their fantastic snake dance ritual. The result is practically always the same. Within a short time after the strange ritual rain falls on their fields and the Indians believe that their rites have brought about the results they sought.

Science now throws a new light on the situation. Weather observers call attention to the fact that August is the rainy season in Arizona and that thunderstorms may be expected at this time of the year. Hopi medicine men fix the date for their ceremonial in time to catch the beginning of the rain and then assume the credit for bringing about the downpour.

Other opportunists have long made use of the same plan not only in asking help from above but also in seeking the things they want here on earth.

Congressmen and state legislators will find them active during the coming year. There is no better time for asking things of a lawmaker than during the year preceding the election in which he will seek return to office.

Political snake dancers will be putting on their performances during the next 12 months for the calendar tells them it is a fit time for a deluge or at least for the promise of one. Sometimes the clouds of promise clear away without bringing showers of blessing but anyway, it's the best time for trying.

Forests for the People.

All Ohioans who like to get out into the great free fields will hail with delight the announcement that the federal government is adding 9,546 acres of Ohio lands to the national forest reserves.

This state has been deprived by the very wealth of its lands from enjoying the privileges of some of its neighboring states. In the mountainous regions of Pennsylvania and West Virginia are great areas of state and national forest lands stretching mile after mile through wooded sections and free for all the people to enjoy. Ohio's lands are so fertile and generally so level that this state has been lamentable backward in setting aside lands for the use of the people.

Public forests are a gift to all the people. They preserve bird and plant life for the nature lover, they provide places for the camper and hiker and they often provide opportunity for the hunter to enjoy his sport.

It becomes increasingly difficult each year for the people of Ohio to find opportunity for outdoor enjoyment. Private woodlands are cleared, farms are broken up into smaller holdings and the city family is hard put to find a picnic or playspot where it will not be regarded as a trespasser. The hunter in particular finds it more difficult each year to enjoy his sport with the knowledge that he will not be chased from the premises by some irate landowner.

The government is motivated in buying forest reserves by the necessity for safeguarding timber supplies and protecting important watersheds but even more important is the fact that these public lands give the people a chance to get out of doors into the open and close to nature with the knowledge that they are welcome, may stay as long as they please and may enjoy themselves to the full.

There should be more public lands in Ohio. Cities are adding rapidly to their parks and the state should proceed in the same way to make broad areas available to all the people.

Farewell to Congress

Congress ended a turbulent session in an atmosphere of hilarity which marked its long months and business and industry breathe a sigh of relief and move forward.

It was a session during which no one knew what the next week would bring forth in the way of new legislation. With the greatest peace time spending in history it enacted laws by the score and some of them established new policies and principles.

In spite of all this uncertainty business moved upward and gains were made against unemployment. Stocks rose during the session and there was a definite and general improvement in conditions.

With congress back home for four months the nation has a breathing spell and there is every prospect that there will be additional advances. During this interval congressmen and senators will be thinking up new things to bring before the country when they meet again but this is a contingency to be faced when it arises. Business hopes for the most part that the legislators will be too busy planning their 1936 campaigns for reelection to give much thought to legislation during this vacation period.

Congress passed many measures which are good, some that are still subject to debate and some likely to fall in their supreme court test. It authorized the spending of more than ten billion dollars. It enacted the social securities bill which may rebuild the social structure of America and the collective bargaining bill which may become the Magna Charta of labor.

Then it passed out of existence with hand music and hilarity in the house and with an ignominious spectacle in the senate as Sen. Huey Long obstructed action with a characteristic dog in the manger filibuster which forced the senate to quit without passing the deficiency bill required for enforcement of a score of measures previously adopted.

An Unsung Hero.

We may now add to the list of heroes the name of Ed Smithers veteran telegraph operator whose job it is to see that wire communications connected with the White House are functioning at all times.

On the desk of the President reposes a gold telegraph key which the executive presses to signal the start of innumerable activities. It has flashed the signal to start world fairs, to open new highways, to call conventions to order, to cut the ribbon and start a flow of traffic across bridges and to herald innumerable other activities.

The other day it was to open a new highway over Lookout mountain. As the hour for the ceremony approached Mr Smithers examined the key as a matter of routine and found to his great consternation that it was dead. Investigation showed that a metal waste basket under the presidential desk had been kicked into a corner so vigorously that it had severed the wire.

There was no time for elaborate repairs but Mr Smithers was equal to the emergency. Like Horatius at the bridge, the boy upon the burning deck and the drummer boy at Shiloh, Coiling his usually dignified frame under the desk he held the severed ends of the wire together while the President pressed the key, a spark flashed down to the Tennessee mountains and a great highway received its first surging stream of traffic.

So hail Mr Smithers! The little Dutch boy who held his finger in the menaced dike was no more equal to a momentous occasion.

Neighborhood History

OVERSUPPLY OF LAWYERS

Nineteen lawyers were present at the first term of court in Morrow county. The man who had the largest number of cases during the first year was John M. Bushfield who came from Champaign county.

Bushfield was a talented man and of the first 100 cases brought in in 1848 he was attorney in 59 of them.

He remained in Mt. Gilead about two years and then returned to his native county. Court records show that he was defendant in several suits after he left.

There were many lawyers who came the first year who had no cases and no visible means of support. There was a law in force at the time that any person who had not gained a year's residence in the township and there was a probability he might become a public charge could be warned out of town. During the first year of Morrow county's court history there was considerable excitement when the citizenry called a meeting to consider the propriety of warning a number of lawyers out of town.

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 — Authors declare the most interesting letters they receive are from people they do not know. Mark Twain often inquired [illegible] of his secretary. Any letters from strangers? He wanted to read them first. A letter to me fascinating [illegible] standards.

The moment [illegible] responsibilities and reports to make [illegible] freshness is dried up. There are no especially surfaces. Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday Aug. 29 1925.

Will Rogers in his weekly letter wrote about efforts that were being made to swim the English channel. He said: Well it has always been the regret of my life that I didn't try and swim it instead of crossing by boat. I know that I could have fared no worse.

Marion merchants announced that Sept. 1 would be the last day for straw hats among those who wished to observe the fashion rules.

Mr and Mrs Charles G. Wiant and son Wendell of East Center street returned from a motor trip through Canada and northern Michigan.

Miss Josephine MacDonald of Marion and Dr. O. J. [illegible] of Huntington Quebec were united in marriage at St. John's cathedral Cleveland.

Miss Corinne Claypool of Ashley and Fred G. Neal of Marion were united in marriage by Rev. M. [illegible] pastor of Grace M. E. church Delaware.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday Aug. 29 1915.

Services at Epworth M. E. church included a program by the Men's chorus of the church and numbers by a quartet consisting of J. A. Wilson, Wiley Young, W. Ross Smith and T. S. Cathers.

Mrs John Titus [illegible] died at her home on South Vine street.

The Prospect team of the Northern Ohio baseball league defeated Huscam's Rants of Marion at Lincoln park 3 to 2. Mulvane pitched for Prospect and Pile for Marion.

David I. Culp of Marion died of injuries suffered in an automobile collision.

Rev. C. G. Kirtley of Indianapolis occupied the pulpit at Trinity Baptist church.

Mr and Mrs David Mautz and children Earl and Ruth and Mr and Mrs Orla McClelland and daughter Hazel made up a picnic party at Rogers Lake near Mt. Gilead.

Mr and Mrs Albert Benson of Fort Wayne were guests at the C. E. Benson home on Orchard street.

Behind The News In

Washington And Wall Street

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug. [illegible] — Business men have been murmuring "from hand to mouth" about instability. If the government figures do not lie this country has experienced the most unusual period of stability in its history during the last eight months. The trouble is the stability has been hooked and fastened on a plane about 80 per cent of normal (1923-1925 being considered normal).

The government business chart shows that business has followed closely to seasonal lines. The Federal Industrial production today is figured at 88 per cent of normal which is only 2 points off since January. Factory employment today has been improved only half a point since January. Payrolls 2.4 points, freight loadings off [illegible], department store sales up 10, building contracts up 10, prices up 17.

Chart

You can trace the trend for yourself from the chart which follows. Each figure represents the percentage of normal existing at the time stated. Normal (100) is the 1923-1925 average for each index except prices. They are based on 1926. All figures have had the seasonal warp eliminated.

[illegible]

Prices

The most significant change lately has been in prices. They are higher than at any time in five years. The recent bulge of food and farm prices (meat and hogs particularly) has drawn the index up. Industrial prices are generally unchanged.

Buying

People seem to have developed a new buying psychology. They are purchasing electric refrigerators, vacuum sweepers, washing machines, autos, cigarets and clothes. They are taking trips to Europe. But they are not buying liquor, homes, real estate or making investments at least not to a commensurate extent.

For instance July production of cigarets set a new record of 13,000,000,000. But the amount of building contracts awarded in that month was only 71 per cent of normal even with the PWA stimuli.

This was undoubtedly a bad outgrowth of the depression era in which so many people lost their savings. They now want to save [illegible] particular [illegible].

Prospects

The immediate outlook is good. During the last three weeks steel operations have been pushed up to about 50 per cent of capacity. In early July they were 30 per cent. The improvement is based on wide buying of many small agricultural implements, wire, tin plate (for canning).

Soon there will be auto demand for steel [illegible]. The best authorities therefore are sure that there will be an increase in steel operations during the next few months.

Electric power production is setting a new record. Lumber is better. An industrial production figure of perhaps 9[illegible] is [illegible] for in September.

Notes

The improvement in building contracts is due almost entirely to PWA. The government influence was felt the first week of July and since [illegible] construction is picking up fairly well after a summer slump [illegible]. It is nothing to brag about.

[illegible] may be due in part to the effect of the adjustment [illegible] Is seems to be [illegible] probably [illegible].

The erratic fluctuations in [illegible] furnishes the inference that the car loadings figures [illegible] the consumers [illegible] are stocking up [illegible]. The [illegible] appears to be better grounded than he expected.

BY JAMES McMULLIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 — Last minute [illegible] passage of the holding company bill [illegible] men flat footed [illegible]. Before you could [illegible] they had moved [illegible] troops for [illegible] the measure to [illegible]. Admittedly the bill as finally passed will be more difficult to [illegible] unconstitutional than the original draft but the power people have great faith in the supreme court. Test cases will be launched as soon as possible.

At the same time preparations are already being made to introduce amendments to the act when congress convenes again in January. One of the main objectives will be to get around the geographical control requirement. Affected interests insist that by making geography a test of virtue some of the clean companies will be put out of business while others whose record is not so good will hardly be touched at all.

The planned amendments will not seek a general nullification of the act. Utility sponsors of proposed changes realize that is impossible. Their aim will be rather to bring about a more realistic distinction between sheep and goats so that only those which have been guilty of abuses will be punished.

Remote

The selection of James L. Ross of Seattle to fill the vacancy on the securities exchange commission caused by Ferdinand Pecora's resignation was a blow to New York. Obviously he is expected to concentrate on the utility end of the commission's business. As an outspoken advocate of public ownership of power facilities his interpretation of the law is hardly likely to be friendly to the commission's new wards.

But there's always hope as long as Joe Kennedy remains chairman. Kennedy has consistently refused to hamper legitimate business and his views will presumably carry more weight than those of a new member. Also there's the comforting example of James M. Landis — who was regarded as a radical visionary when appointed and has turned out in practice to be sane and practical.

New York is grateful for one aspect of the Ross appointment. It stymies Benjamin Cohen's ambitions for the job. The general feeling is that Ross may be bad but Cohen would have been worse. Insiders understand that one reason Cohen was passed over was because his chances of confirmation were so remote. Too many senators see red when his name is mentioned.

Liaison

The question of whether Joe Kennedy will stick with the securities exchange commission is again very much to the fore. Joe [illegible] craves to quit. The job is costing him a lot of money and he wants more freedom in his personal affairs.

Financial and utility circles would regard his retirement as a calamity. They have confidence in his fairness and it gives them the jitters to think of being at the mercy of a less experienced and friendly successor.

Fortunately from their angle there are indications that Roosevelt will insist that he stay. If the President is planning a new appeal to business — as reliable reports say — he urgently needs Kennedy as the one new deal liaison man right wingers will trust.

Backing

American bankers are cold as the atmosphere to Italian overtures for financial assistance — but thousands of Italians and Italo-Americans have quietly mobilized their [illegible] behind the [illegible] American [illegible] liquid [illegible] the day of pro[illegible] which pay so high [illegible]. Ditto for [illegible]. This gives Il Duce [illegible] exchange with which to buy [illegible] supplies.

[illegible] It is impossible to get exact figures but [illegible] transferred [illegible]. Not [illegible] Italy were obliged to liquidate foreign assets [illegible].

[illegible] Italy [illegible] that [illegible] if they [illegible] while Mussolini is in power. There is [illegible] a great mix [illegible] three quarter million [illegible] in the United States [illegible] in New York [illegible] Il Duce [illegible].

[illegible]

[illegible] open [illegible] manifest [illegible] with [illegible] no reason for [illegible] reduction [illegible] nervousness [illegible] laws of [illegible] makers are in a better position to slap privately [illegible] — but there's no sign of it yet.

Dispute

The [illegible] is the only [illegible] war materials here. A shipment of 12 tractors plus additional equipment to convert them [illegible] recently left New York [illegible] to Ethiopia by way of Djibouti in French Somaliland. Whether they ever get there is another question. The French are touchy about Haile Selassie's arms imports. The tractors looked peaceful enough as shipped — but the accompanying guns and armor wore a pathetically feeble disguise.

Sidelights

Industrial corporations may borrow a leaf from the utility book and start a barrage of public protest against increased corporate taxes this fall. Department store sales were up 14 per cent in July as against a year ago. Inventories were from 25 per cent to 18 per cent lower. Consolidated Gas is reducing the number of its employes.

A TEST FOR FORAKER

When Foraker was a delegate from Ohio to the national Republican convention in Chicago pledged to the support of John Sherman he was given a test of loyalty.

On the Sunday preceding the convention a delegation visited him in his hotel room for a conference. They wanted the consent of Mr Foraker to allow them to present his name [illegible] as a candidate. Foraker met the proposition [illegible] determined opposition.

He was pledged he said to do all he could for Mr Sherman and would not cease until so ordered by Mr Sherman. Foraker knew if he accepted the proposition he would have been nominated but he would have had a load of opprobrium to carry the rest of his [illegible]. Gen. Ben Harrison was nominated and later elected.

Mary's Future Safety Presents a Dilemma to the Family

I ECHOED Katherine's amazement and her alarm as my eyes followed hers to the back seat of our car which she had kept clear of all luggage so that the baby might have plenty of room to keep from getting cramped during the long journey.

The mystery of Scott was a mystery no longer. Curled comfortably up on the back seat with his head almost hidden in his paws and only his bright expressive eyes showing was the missing collie. He evidently had accompanied us on many a motor trip over a short distance and with jumped into any car whose door is open and ... departure.

I wondered why Jim had not looked in the cars first of all but when he with Roderick and Junior dejected from unsuccessful searching came hurrying up at Katherine's exclamation and the small boys delight flung themselves on the collie. Roderick even in his summary ejection from the car he gave us the explanation.

How Did Scott Get In?

I'd have sworn the doors to all three cars were closed when I packed them," he said. "I didn't look in either of them for Scott had been bothering me by jumping around when I was packing and I told him to go and lie down. He was still lying there when I got through packing and went around to the kitchen for a minute and as I say I was sure the car doors were all closed so when I found him gone I never thought of looking in them. I'm awful sorry to have wasted all that time."

"There's no harm done," I said, "except that the seat will have to be taken out and swept thoroughly."

"I'll get the broom and do it right away," Jim said, turning toward the house.

"We'll get the broom, Jim, while you take out the seat," Junior said, and with Roderick dashed importantly toward the kitchen door. They were back by the time Jim had the seat out and carried far enough away so that the dust would not reach the baby, and then they turned their attention to the collie, frisking joyfully around them, making as dumbly eloquent a plea as was in his power to be taken along with us.

"You're One Smart Dog"

"You're one smart dog, Scottie, old boy," Junior assured him, and Roderick sounded his invariable slogan, "You bet your boots."

"I don't see how he did it," Katherine said, puzzled. "Do you suppose he could nose open a closed car door?"

"He can if one has been left closed but with the latch uncaught. I said. 'If there's a crack into which he can insert the tip of his paw or the end of his nose he'll manage it. Dicky and I have seen him do it more than once and laughed heartily at his antics and his perseverance."

"Then, of course, that's what has happened," Mother Graham commented. "Jim was mistaken in thinking that all the doors were latched securely. One of them evidently wasn't. Perhaps the latch is defective. You'd better test them, Margaret, before you start. Grannie doesn't want her baby to fall out."

Fugitive Alarms Madge

A look around told me that everybody was ready to start, that my mother-in-law's attention was taken up by the baby, and that Mary was safely out of earshot in Katherine's car, which she was to drive up. I gave a signal to Dicky and slipped unobserved back into the house.

"I want to ask you about Mary," I said. "What am I to do with her when I start back? I am afraid she will insist on coming back with me."

"Don't do or say anything until the last minute possible before ... return ... time promptly and sensibly. In the meantime I'll get in touch with Noel and give him an earful about Leslie and this other mysterious bird that escaped is this morning."

"If Noel doesn't burn up the wires to the camp with commands to Mary to stay where she is, I miss my guess. Shall I insist upon telephoning him this morning as soon as you get away from this vicinity?" I asked.

"Yes, I've promised her that."

"Well, tell her not to let Noel guess anything about Leslie until I have a chance to see him. It's nothing to be told over a telephone anyway. She can assure herself that he'll all right and tell him that she's going up with you and the children for a few days. That'll hold him until I get a chance to talk with him."

"But what about that other man who escaped?" I asked anxiously. "I hate to go away and leave you with him at large."

SAYS "VENDOL" IS WONDERFUL

MRS GEORGE NAHER

Mrs George Naher, residing at Prospect, Ohio, near Marion, owes her good health to VENDOL and tells about it as follows: "I was in a general rundown condition and needed a safe, reliable tonic so began taking Vendol and now I never feel dizzy, my bowels act regularly every day, nerves have calmed down so that I sleep well and I enjoy the best appetite I've known in years. Vendol is the most satisfactory medicine I ever took and I'm so glad I found it."

Vendol is made from the juices of roots and herbs that mix with the juices of the stomach and quickly relieves indigestion, gastritis, sourness, heavy feeling, belching and cramps. Vendol corrects constipation and soon the bowels are moving regularly. Purges the liver which ends dizziness, spots before the eyes, headaches and bad breath. Relieves backache and painful joints. Quiets the nerves so that sleep becomes sound and restful.

Vendol is for sale by all druggists.

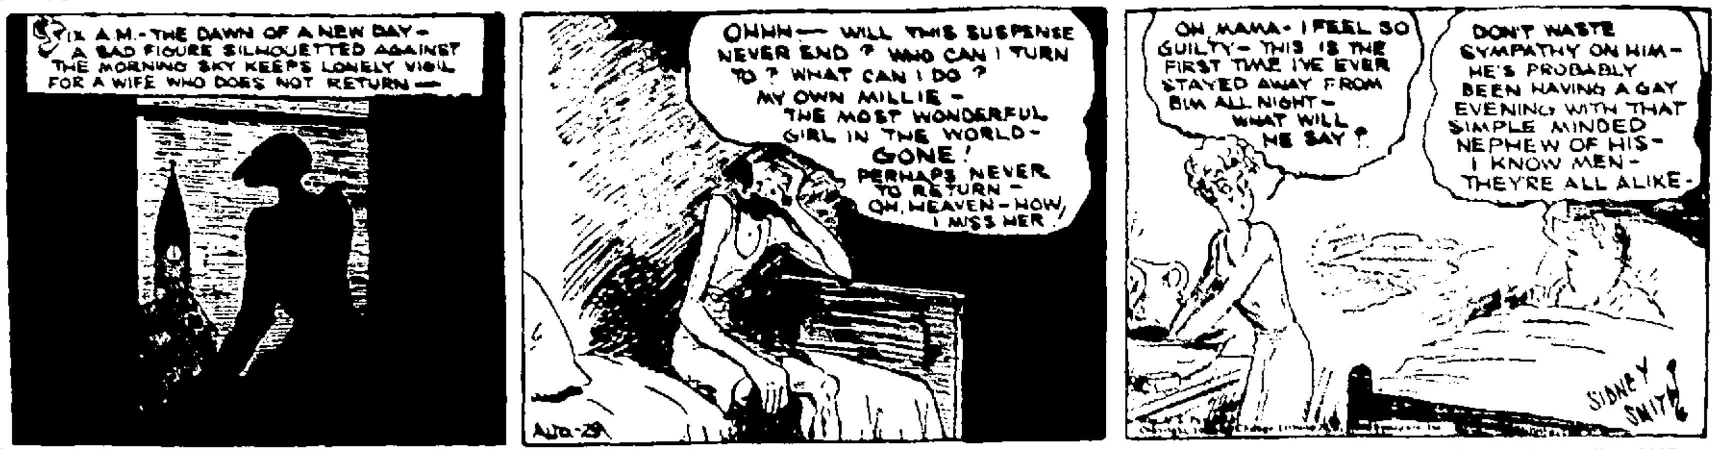
SATISFYING
WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT
THE PERFECT GUM
AFTER EVERY MEAL

THE GUMPS

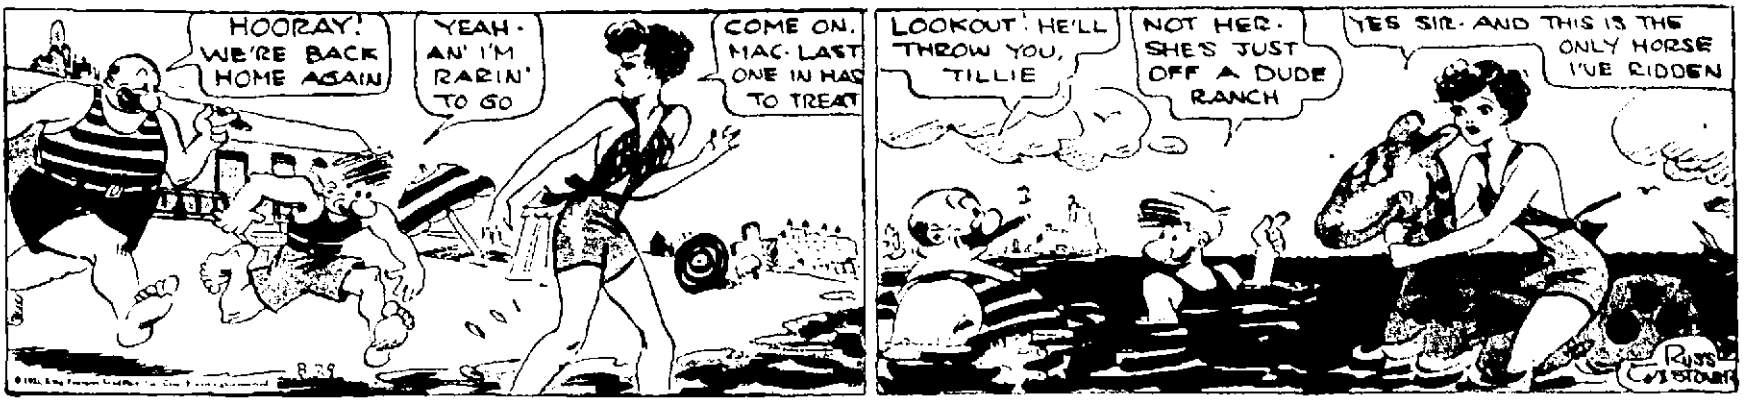
BY SIDNEY SMITH



SIX A.M.-THE DAWN OF A NEW DAY- A SAD FIGURE SILHOUETTED AGAINST THE MORNING SKY KEEPS LONELY VIGIL FOR A WIFE WHO DOES NOT RETURN—
OHHH— WILL THIS SUSPENSE NEVER END? WHO CAN I TURN TO? WHAT CAN I DO? MY OWN MILLIE - THE MOST WONDERFUL GIRL IN THE WORLD- GONE! PERHAPS NEVER TO RETURN - OH, HEAVEN-HOW, I MISS HER
AUG-29
OH MAMA- I FEEL SO GUILTY- THIS IS THE FIRST TIME I'VE EVER STAYED AWAY FROM BIM ALL NIGHT- WHAT WILL HE SAY?
DON'T WASTE SYMPATHY ON HIM- HE'S PROBABLY BEEN HAVING A GAY EVENING WITH THAT SIMPLE MINDED NEPHEW OF HIS- I KNOW MEN- THEY'RE ALL ALIKE-
SIDNEY SMITH

TILLIE THE TOILER

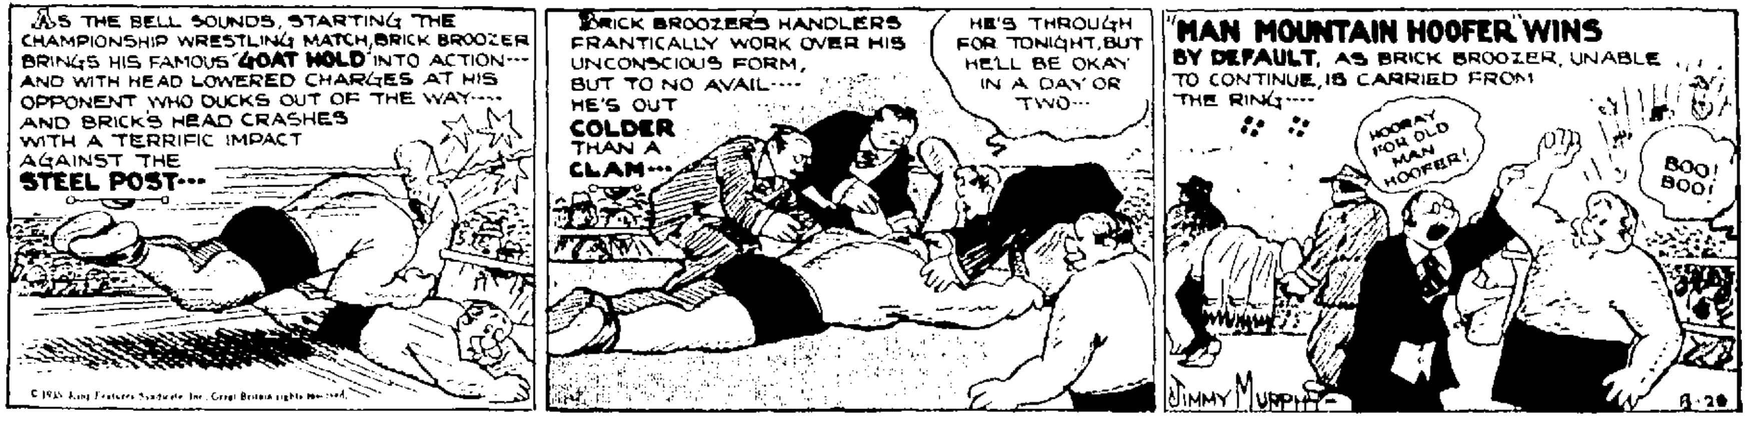
BY RUSS WESTOVER



HOORAY! WE'RE BACK HOME AGAIN
YEAH- AN' I'M RARIN' TO GO
COME ON, MAC- LAST ONE IN HAS TO TREAT
8-29
LOOKOUT! HE'LL THROW YOU, TILLIE
NOT HER- SHE'S JUST OFF A DUDE RANCH
YES SIR- AND THIS IS THE ONLY HORSE I'VE RIDDEN
RUSS WESTOVER

TOOTS AND CASPER

BY JIMMY MURPHY



AS THE BELL SOUNDS, STARTING THE CHAMPIONSHIP WRESTLING MATCH, BRICK BROOZER BRINGS HIS FAMOUS "GOAT HOLD" INTO ACTION--- AND WITH HEAD LOWERED CHARGES AT HIS OPPONENT WHO DUCKS OUT OF THE WAY---- AND BRICK'S HEAD CRASHES WITH A TERRIFIC IMPACT AGAINST THE STEEL POST--- © 1935, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.
BRICK BROOZER'S HANDLERS FRANTICALLY WORK OVER HIS UNCONSCIOUS FORM, BUT TO NO AVAIL---- HE'S OUT COLDER THAN A CLAM--- HE'S THROUGH FOR TONIGHT, BUT HE'LL BE OKAY IN A DAY OR TWO---
"MAN MOUNTAIN HOOFER" WINS BY DEFAULT, AS BRICK BROOZER, UNABLE TO CONTINUE, IS CARRIED FROM THE RING----
HOORAY FOR OLD MAN HOOFER!
BOO! BOO!
JIMMY MURPHY

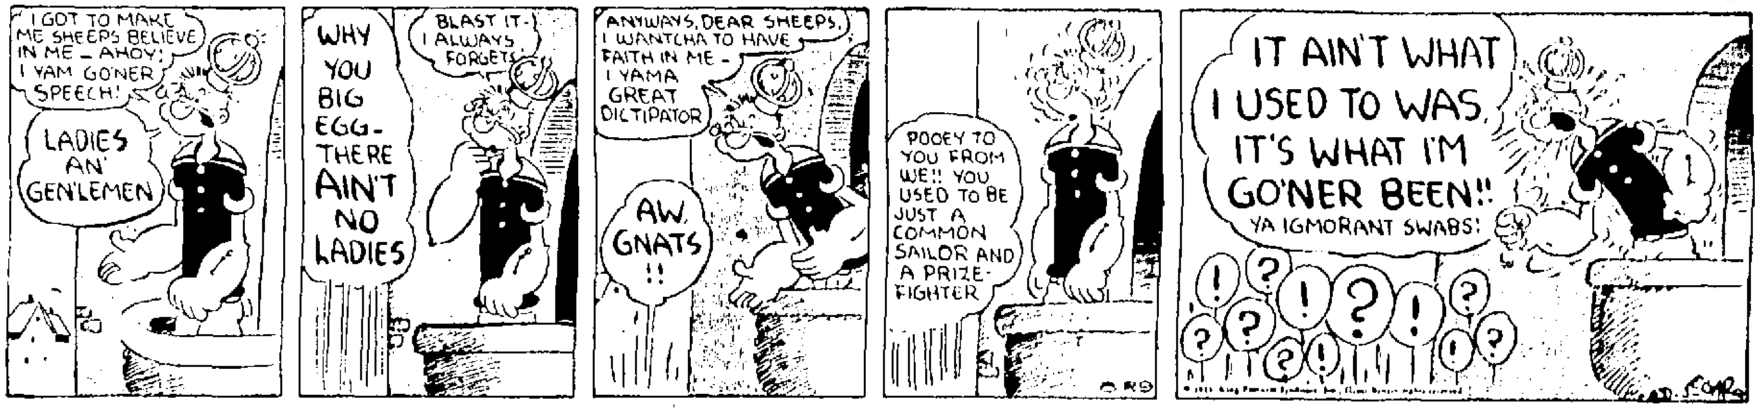
THIMBLE THEATER

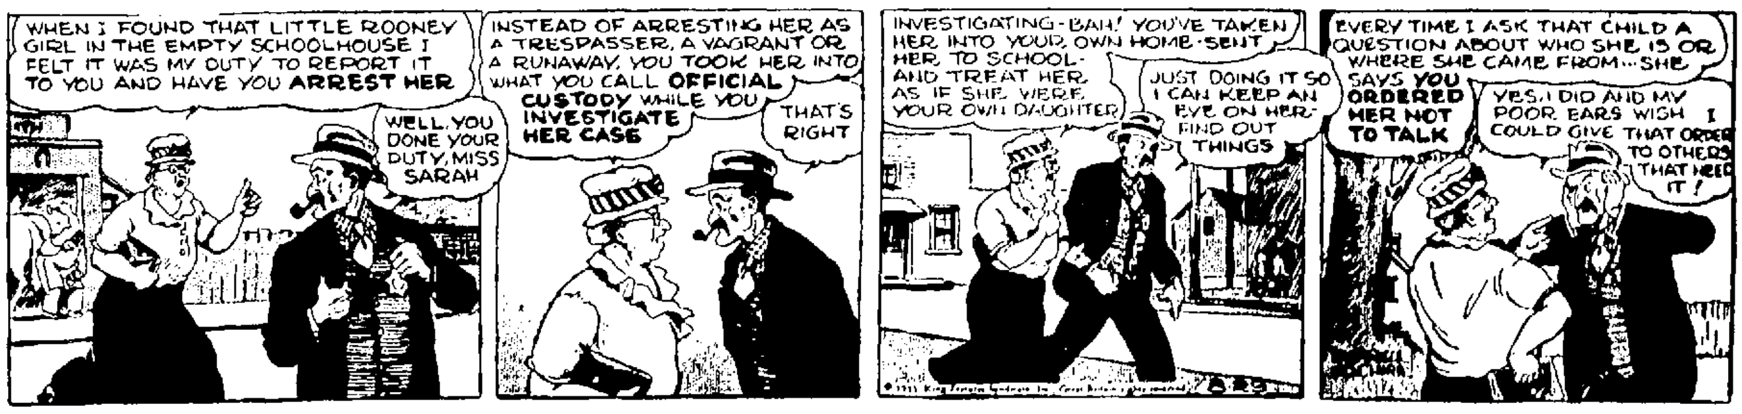
BY SEGAR



I GOT TO MAKE ME SHEEPS BELIEVE IN ME - AHOY! I YAM GO'NER SPEECH!
LADIES AN' GEN'LEMEN
WHY YOU BIG EGG- THERE AIN'T NO LADIES
BLAST IT- I ALWAYS FORGETS
ANYWAYS, DEAR SHEEPS, I WANTCHA TO HAVE FAITH IN ME - I YAMA GREAT DICTIPATOR
AW, GNATS!!
POOEY TO YOU FROM WE!! YOU USED TO BE JUST A COMMON SAILOR AND A PRIZE-FIGHTER
8-29
IT AIN'T WHAT I USED TO WAS, IT'S WHAT I'M GO'NER BEEN!! YA IGMORANT SWABS!
!?!?!?!?!?!?
E. C. SEGAR

ANNIE ROONEY

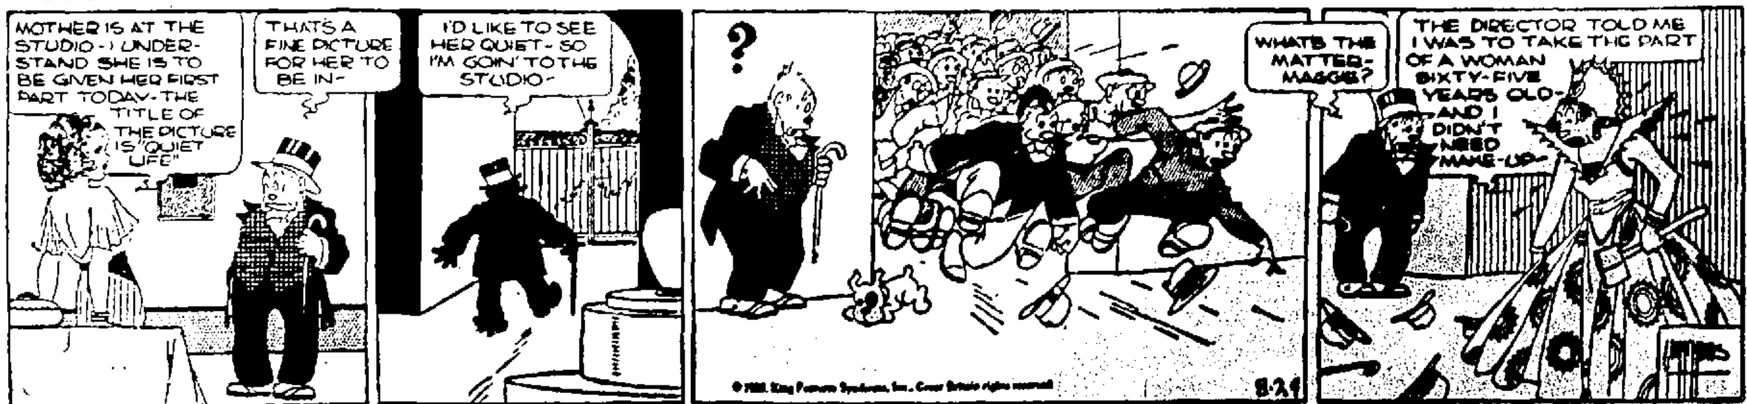
BY BRANDON WALSH



WHEN I FOUND THAT LITTLE ROONEY GIRL IN THE EMPTY SCHOOLHOUSE I FELT IT WAS MY DUTY TO REPORT IT TO YOU AND HAVE YOU ARREST HER
WELL, YOU DONE YOUR DUTY, MISS SARAH
INSTEAD OF ARRESTING HER AS A TRESPASSER, A VAGRANT OR A RUNAWAY, YOU TOOK HER INTO WHAT YOU CALL OFFICIAL CUSTODY WHILE YOU INVESTIGATE HER CASE
THAT'S RIGHT
INVESTIGATING-BAH! YOU'VE TAKEN HER INTO YOUR OWN HOME-SENT HER TO SCHOOL- AND TREAT HER AS IF SHE WERE YOUR OWN DAUGHTER
JUST DOING IT SO I CAN KEEP AN EYE ON HER- FIND OUT THINGS
8-29
EVERY TIME I ASK THAT CHILD A QUESTION ABOUT WHO SHE IS OR WHERE SHE CAME FROM--SHE SAYS YOU ORDERED HER NOT TO TALK
YES, I DID AND MY POOR EARS WISH I COULD GIVE THAT ORDER TO OTHERS THAT NEED IT!

BRINGING UP FATHER

BY GEORGE McMANUS



MOTHER IS AT THE STUDIO - I UNDERSTAND SHE IS TO BE GIVEN HER FIRST PART TODAY- THE TITLE OF THE PICTURE IS "QUIET LIFE"
THAT'S A FINE PICTURE FOR HER TO BE IN-
I'D LIKE TO SEE HER QUIET- SO I'M GOIN' TO THE STUDIO-

The Cubs lost a great chance to overhaul the Cards in the National League struggle when they divided a twin bill with the Braves. Wally Berger's 28th homer and Ben Cantwell's four hit flinging gave Boston a 2 to 1 decision in the opener but Chicago came back behind Lon Warneke to win 7 to 2.

Brooklyn won the other National League clash beating the Reds 4 to 2. Only 503 cash customers were there to see it.

The Indians took a firmer hold on third place in the junior circuit beating the Red Sox 2 to 0 as Thornton Lee outpitched Bob Grove then winning 3 to 1 behind Mel Harder.

Washington and St. Louis divided their twin bill, the Senators batting out a 10 to 3 triumph behind Ed Linke and the Browns winning a speedy second game 1 to 0 as Ivy Andrews and Jack Russell both pitched six hit ball.

Costly Errors in Eighth Defeat Forest Lawn

Home Run in First Frame by Starling Somerlot Features Meager Hitting by Both Teams

Starling Somerlot, Pleasant Lutheran left fielder, struck a heavy blow to Forest Lawn's hopes in the first inning when he connected for a home run scoring Leffler ahead of him. Leffler had opened the game by walking [illegible] Fidels for a free ticket to first.

Somerlot's drive sailed over [illegible] Converse's head in left field and came after one batter had been retired. Forest Lawn scored its first run in the last half of the first as Harry Winters walked, took second on a passed ball, went to third on Poorman's fly to Starling Somerlot and came home as Fidels was out at first, Williams to Frank Seiter.

After yielding a single and double to start Forest Lawn's turn at bat in the fifth, Coach Weiss worked himself out of a bad hole. Rucht, Forest Lawn rightfielder, singled and Bruce doubled. With men on second and third and no one out three [illegible] men went down in order. Harry Winters popped up to [illegible], Poorman struck out and Fidels lifted an infield pop to Williams near second base.

Forest Lawn came back in the [illegible] frame to even the count when Converse was safe at first as Leffler dropped his fly in center field. Ruppert singled and Converse scored. Dan Winters flied out to Starling Somerlot and Jackson was out at first, Ruppert reaching third. Rucht was unable to connect as Weiss struck him out.

Hit By Misplays

Ken Somerlot started the eighth inning with a single, went to third [illegible] a high fly to left [illegible] from [illegible] Almer [illegible] Lutheran [illegible] scored on P. Seiter's drive.

[illegible] the Forest Lawn [illegible] of the series [illegible] Converse after [illegible] fly in the fifth inning [illegible] fielding [illegible] a game [illegible] was unable [illegible] after reaching first on an error.

MARION DOUBLES TENNIS TEAM LOSES

The doubles team of Crawford and Foster dropped its second match in the Central Ohio tennis tournament at Columbus yesterday, losing to the Steinman-Johnson team of Columbus 6-1, 6-0.

Steinman and Johnson are rated No. 1 in the tourney and now [illegible] favorites to capture the doubles championship. Pinkie Steinman is [illegible] state singles champion and Cal Johnson of [illegible] Hayes is top ranking [illegible] player in Columbus. Another Marion doubles team, Ralph [illegible] and John Archer, were [illegible] their second round matches [illegible].

BOWLING LEAGUE SCHEDULE SET UP

All Star Teams To Compete 35 Weeks, Four Old Groups Back

Plans for the extensive fall and winter bowling tournament [illegible] got under way Tuesday night at the Recreation bowling alleys on South Prospect street as the All Star League schedule was arranged.

Managers and captains of the City League will meet tonight to arrange their schedule. Four new and four old teams are entered in the All Star league. The old groups back are Smart and Wade, [illegible], Jim Dugan and Leffler Coal and [illegible].

Nearly every team except the Gasco group is to be composed of veterans. Five rounds during which each team will meet every other team in the circuit has been scheduled. The program calls for 35 weeks of bowling and will get under way Sept. 3. All Star teams will roll each Tuesday night.

The All Star bowling schedule is:
First week—[illegible]

[illegible] Second week—[illegible]

Third week—[illegible] Fourth week—[illegible]

Fifth week—[illegible] Sixth week—Smart and [illegible]

WEAK RALLY HALTS DOWNTURN IN WHEAT

Reports of Rust, Hail and Frost Damage Received from Canadian Provinces.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 The downward trend of the wheat market was halted at least temporarily today as fresh advices from the Canadian prairie province indicated grain losses from rust, hail and frost damage might exceed expectations.

The rallying power of wheat was comparatively weak, but lighter offerings gave the market a firmer tone near the close, with some buying credited to milling interests. The approaching holiday and September delivery period tended to restrict trade.

PLANS FOR IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT OHIO THEATER

New Seats Will Be Installed and Lobby Remodeled and Redecorated.

Plans for improvement in the Ohio theater which will include new seats and redecorating of the lobby were announced today by J. J. Huebner, manager.

Work of installing new air-cushioned leather seats in the auditorium will be completed by the first of the week, after which work will begin on redesigning the lobby.

When work in the lobby is completed it will be the first time in the approximately 25 years the theater has been built that any marked change has been made in its design.

Plans are to lower the ceiling approximately four feet and to install indirect lighting. The mirrored panels will be retained and the entire lobby will be redecorated in black and silver.

If there is no change in plans patrons in the near future will purchase their tickets at a new ticket office at the front of the theater, a step toward modernizing the appearance of the theater, Mr. Huebner said.

Further improvement of the theater front will be covering of the under side of the marquee and extending the lowered lobby ceiling to the marquee. The large front doors will be moved back four or five feet into the lobby.

Plans for the theater interior in addition to the installing of new seats include redecorating the stage.

One of the pictures which has been booked for the fall programs is "Steamboat 'Round the Bend," starring the late Will Rogers. Critics have acclaimed it the best of the famous humorist's pictures. It has been booked for the middle of September.

WALLY MOSES LEADS POLL OF OUTSTANDING 1935 ROOKIE TALENT

Indian, Red Players Mentioned in Voting; Castleman Heads Pitchers.

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug 29 — The cheerful bit of news today for Wally Moses, sensational young outfielder of the Philadelphia Athletics whose career was abruptly checked by an arm fracture, is that the baseball experts consider him the outstanding major league rookie of the 1935 season.

This distinction goes to the Texas League recruit, not as any consolation prize, but on the merit of his freshman performance in rivalry with one of the greatest crops of first-year regulars developed in a blue moon. Exactly 42 players, playing regularly this year for the first time if not actually getting their first peek of the big show, received mention in a poll conducted by the Associated Press to determine opinion on the outstanding rookies.

Moses received 26 votes of a maximum of 63 cast by major league writers. The speedy young outfielder, who broke into the A's line-up on opening day and had a batting mark of .326 for 85 games when he broke his arm in Chicago nearly two weeks ago, enjoyed a comfortable margin over all other flychasers, including Hank Leiber of the Giants, who collected 14 votes.

Clydell Castleman, young righthander of the Giants, was voted the year's outstanding rookie pitcher in a close contest with Pittsburgh's brilliant Darrell (Cy) Blanton. Castleman won, 24 to 16, and was the nearest rival of Moses in total vote.

Distinction as the outstanding recruit infielder goes to Lou (Boze) Berger, Cleveland second baseman and a New Orleans graduate, with 15 votes, emerged on top in another close contest, leading Jimmy Bucher of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Phil Cavarretta, young first sacker of the Chicago Cubs who finished with 12 and 11 respectively.

Tied for honors was the American League's freshmen pitching aces, in the opinion of the experts are two members of the staff of the Chicago White Sox, John Whitehead and Vernon Kennedy.

Cincinnati, which made the year's leading experiment in new talent, led the list in the number of players mentioned, with four. Shortstop Billy Myers and Outfielder Ival Goodman were rated the best of the Redland crop.

EXPECT 10 FOOTBALL LETTER MEN BACK

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 29.—When the call to hit the gridiron at Heise park comes and the first practice begins Sept. 3, it is expected that at least 10 Galion High school lettermen will be on hand. A much heavier team will be available this year than last. There were 12 lettermen at the close of the last school year, but Bob Scanlon may not be able to play because of an arm injury received in a motorcycle accident this summer, and Fred Berry, who has been in Detroit this summer, may not return to school here this fall.

Equipment enough for 44 boys or more will be available this season. It is expected that the line this year will average in weight, 155 to 165 pounds. This will be Coach Robert Corry's second year as mentor of the Galion players. He has nine games scheduled including three night games to be played away from home.

SHOOT TOO FAR

Target Shooters Arrested When Bullets Enter Home Area.

Because their aim with a revolver is poor two boys, 14 and 16 years of age, are in the Marion county juvenile detention home today awaiting a decision of Judge Oscar Gast on charges of shooting firearms in the city.

Although the youths were "only at target practice" at Indian Mound in the southeast section of the city, it appears that the bullets that missed the target traveled on into the city in the residential districts in that sector.

Police took the target shooters into custody upon the complaint of residents.

FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE HAS PICNIC SUPPER

A family picnic supper and program last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rinehart of 501 Summit street followed an afternoon business session of the Rebekah Friendship circle. Twenty-six members responded to roll call at the opening of the business session.

The program consisted of a playlet, "The Acid Test," given by Mrs. E. E. Parish and Mrs. Cleon Williams, euchre and games. Mrs. Otto Herzog of Huntington, Ind., and Mrs. Vera Wright of Columbus were guests.

A meeting will be held Sept. 18 with Mrs. Lizzie Hughes of North Main street.

WORLD'S NET STARS VIE AT FOREST HILLS

By The Associated Press

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 29—The leading racquet wielders from nine nations converged on Forest Hills today in quest of the United State's men's and women's singles championships.

England's Fred Perry, World's No. 1 ranking player, will not get into action in defense of the title he has won the last two years until tomorrow, but Helen Jacobs, champion of the women for three years, was scheduled to play the second match on the famous stadium turf. She drew as her first round opponent, Mrs. H. Walter Blumenthal of New York, the famous Baroness Maud Levi, whose court experience should give Helen a chance to tune up all her strokes.

Sixty-six matches were listed for the opening day. Thirty-four in the men's division will cut the field to 64 players for the second round while 32 will slice the women's field exactly in half.

Wilmer Allison, veteran Austin, Tex., player and ranked at the top of the U. S. seeded list, drew as his first opponent Henry C. Brunie of New York. Gene Mako, Los Angeles, and Berkeley Bell, New York, also play their opening matches on the stadium turf, the former meeting Jacques Brugnon, France, and the latter, Manuel Alonzo, Spanish veteran from New York.

UPSETS PLENTIFUL IN WOMEN'S LINKS PLAY

Glenna Collett Vare Dominates National Tournament Field.

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 29 Upsets were strewn all over historic Interlachen today—the medalist and half of the tournament's "Big Six" were on the sidelines—but the familiar figure of Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare loomed bigger than ever on the national women's golf championship horizon.

Definitely back on her game, Mrs. Vare had plenty of work ahead of her in two veterans who have been trying to stop her for years—Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City and Charlotte Glutting of West Orange, N. J., who removed Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., the one girl on whom the galleryites pinned their hopes yesterday.

On the sidelines with Miss Emily was another dangerous contender, Mrs. Maureen Orcutt Crews of Coral Gables, Fla. Mrs. Vare, who has been in the finals seven times since 1922, semi-finals three times and medalist twice, faced Elizabeth Abbott of Los Angeles, in the quarter-finals over 18 holes today.

100 SKEET SHOOTERS EYEING 250 TARGET

Qualifying Rounds Will Not Be Held.

By The Associated Press

SOLON, O., Aug. 29—With all the minor championships out of the way, more than 100 skeet shooters turned their attention to the 250-target race for the all-bore individual title today.

Original plans called for qualifying rounds of 50 targets today and Friday, with a 100 target competition Saturday for the crown, but due to the entry list dropping far under expectations, officials decided to cut the event over three days and increase the total to 250 clays.

H. P. Joy, Jr., of Detroit, Mich., who tied for the smallbore and sub-smallbore titles Tuesday, only to lose both in the shootoffs, made sure of the 20-gauge championship yesterday by cracking 98 of 100 for a clear edge over the classy field of 75.

TEAM WILL PLAY 2 HOLIDAY GAMES

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Aug. 29—Broadway Independents have a double header lined up for Labor Day. In the morning they will clash with the strong West Mansfield outfit and in the afternoon will battle the West Side Merchants of Columbus in a return game. The Union County team won the previous tilt with the Merchants, 4 to 2.

On Sunday, September 8, the Independents will play a return game with Powell, who defeated the Broadway team a few weeks ago, 2 to 0.

NEW PARKING PLAN INDORSED

Business Men Through C. C. Kleinmaier Answer Mayor's Objections

An answer [illegible] parking [illegible] Kleinmaier [illegible]

[illegible] Kleinmaier [illegible]

The [illegible] liked and suggested the plan [illegible] I haven't talked with any one else who doesn't consider it an improvement over the present [illegible] Mr. Kleinmaier said.

In answer to the mayor's contention that the new plan will not solve the traffic congestion problem and will further increase [illegible] Mr. Kleinmaier quoted [illegible] city engineer as saying it will provide approximately four and one-half feet more width for traffic and will lessen the parking facilities in each block only slightly.

Parking facilities will be reduced only three or four automobiles to a block, according to Mr. Kleinmaier.

In addition to making driving easier and avoiding congestion it will be easier to drive into the parking space than it would be under parallel parking, Mr. Kleinmaier said.

J. W. Turner, division engineer for the state highway department, recently suggested that parallel parking be given a trial in Marion as a possible solution to the traffic problem.

Supporters of the new ordinance also contend that when cars pull out of the parking spaces they will not have to cut so far into the lane of traffic and because of this many collisions will be avoided.

"I believe the mayor is wrong in thinking the new plan won't be advantageous to both tourist and shopper," Mr. Kleinmaier said.

Mayor [illegible] announced yesterday that he will not veto the newly enacted ordinance but will let it go through without his signature.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS PICNIC AT M'KINLEY

An afternoon of contests and games was followed by a picnic supper and the regular mid-week prayer service at a picnic held by the Memorial Baptist Sunday school yesterday at McKinley park. An automobile travel contest was won by Warren McMahon, Howard Bush and Roy R. D. Hilderman and in a string winding contest the award was won by a team captained by Hazel Layman. Mrs. George Darling received the honors in a husband calling contest and a cracker eating contest was won by George Darling and Wilma Lee. In a necktie tieing contest the prize was won by Howard Bush. The entertainment program was arranged by Mrs. Leona Sanderson.

Guests included Mrs. A. G. Ann... of Cranberry Center, Ia., and Mrs. Ella Debolt of Plainfield, Ill.

GALION TO INSTALL NEW STREET SIGNS

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 29.—Within a few days Galion will have new aluminum street signs and traffic signals. For a number of years the streets have been without signs. The traffic signals are up-to-date inasmuch as they will operate with controls so that motorists at a certain rate of speed will be able to pass street intersections in the downtown district without stopping.

A new feature of the lights never used before in Galion will be the control switch at the city fire department. This when worked in case of fire or emergency will switch all traffic lights to the red signal.

RIDGEWAY WOMAN PAINFULLY BURNED

Special to The Star

KENTON, Aug. 29.—Physicians today held hope for recovery of Mrs. D. O. Stump, 35, of Ridgeway, who is in a critical condition at her home suffering from burns. She upset a kettle of boiling tomatoes on her right arm and side. Attendants said the flesh was cooked by contact with the boiling mixture which she was preparing to can.

3 DROWNED AS BUS IS HIT BY FLOOD

By The Associated Press

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Aug. 29.—Three persons were drowned near here late last night when an eight-foot wall of water trapped a bus at a railway underpass. Two others were believed to have perished.

The floodwater caused by cloudbursts caught the bus as the driver waited for water to recede in the underpass.

ORPHANS' HOME WINS PRAISES OF LEGION

Leader Points to Report in Reply to Criticism of Davey Group

By The Associated Press

XENIA, O., Aug. 29.—Capt. [illegible] Hays, superintendent of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home, expressed gratification today at a report on his administration made by a state American Legion committee. Gov. Davey had accused the Hays administration of extravagance.

"I think the American Legion committee replied to the governor's charges very well and I do not think a reply from me is necessary," Hays said. He declined to comment on charges contained in a report of the governor's investigating committee.

An assertion that the Legion has not quit fighting for the Xenia home and will not quit until the situation is satisfactorily cleared up was made by Vincent [illegible] the Xenia retiring state vice commander of the Legion.

"It is the opinion of the rank and file of the Legion and of all [illegible] who have heard both sides of the question that the Xenia home management has been completely exonerated of the governor's charges of extravagance and waste," he said. "In fact the management has been commended for its efficiency by this unbiased board."

MT. GILEAD ANGLERS FAIL TO SEE DAVEY

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 29.—A delegation of residents of Mt. Gilead and vicinity returned from Columbus Wednesday after a vain effort to secure an audience with Gov. Martin L. Davey. They had hoped to induce the governor to aid them in their effort to persuade the conservation department officials to reopen the state lakes here.

The two lakes were recently closed to anglers for a period of five years by a conservation department order. They conferred with the department officials Wednesday and were able to clear up a number of misunderstandings, they reported.

Lawrence Woodell, state conservation commissioner, said he would refer their request to the conservation council.

The lakes were closed by the conservation division in June for propagation purposes.

$30 AUTO CAUSES $50,000 DAMAGES

By The Associated Press

DEFIANCE, O., Aug. 29.—A $30 automobile cost the Baltimore & Ohio railroad more than $50,000 by crashing into the side of a fast freight train Aug. 11.

The railroad said today the damage to 31 refrigerator cars and contents was $41,320, to trackage $1,150 and for rental of other railroads over which traffic was diverted during a 21-hour tie-up, several thousand dollars.

Three Cincinnati persons, [illegible] Dolls Voltz, Joseph [illegible] and Lester Bernard, rode in the $30 auto.

Head Brakeman Walter Leiter of Garrett, Ind., received head cuts and Miss Voltz was slightly cut in the pileup of cars that resulted from the auto hitting the first car of the train.

FAIRLESS WILL HEAD NEW STEEL COMBINE

Operations of Carnegie and Illinois Metal Concerns To Be Merged.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Benjamin F. Fairless of Youngstown, once a school teacher, will head the new organization designed to unify operations of the Carnegie and Illinois Steel companies, the United States Steel Corp. announced today.

Fairless, a prominent figure in the steel industry, is [illegible] executive vice president of [illegible] Steel Corp. The main office for the new organization will be established in Pittsburgh.

It was believed in New York steel circles that the name of the new organization and other details of the plan for decentralizing the corporation would be announced within the next month upon the formal election of Fairless.

Production and sales in the Chicago and Pittsburgh areas will be directed from the new Pittsburgh office.

It is believed that the Wall street plan eventually will result in the formation of five or six new subsidiaries controlling operations and sales within their own areas. The general plan of reorganization along geographical lines was announced some time ago as a means of obtaining greater [illegible] efficiency, eliminating duplication of facilities and centralizing managerial responsibilities within the [illegible]

Carnegie and Illinois are considered the principal operating subsidiaries of U. S. Steel, a holding company.

Fairless was born in Pigeon Run, near Massillon, O., in 1890. He taught school for [illegible] years and attended Wooster college and Ohio Northern university, taking an engineering course.

U. S. HAVING TROUBLE TO FLOAT BOND ISSUE

Only $85,592,000 Tenders Received on an Offering of $100,000,000

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The treasury today reported its first [illegible] during this administration in floating a government bond issue when only $85,592,000 of tenders were received for an offering of $100,000,000.

The offering consisted of four-year 1½ per cent bonds for the Federal Farm Mortgage Corp. made last Monday. They were sold on a competitive auction basis to the highest bidder.

Treasury officials could not recall a similar instance in the memory of present men. The closest approach was said to have occurred last August when an issue of $150,000,000 of Home Owners Loan Corp. bonds was floated in three series. While two of the series were over-subscribed an offering of the three-year series fell $2,000,000 shy of the requested total of $50,000,000.

The average price of the Farm Mortgage Corp. bonds to be issued at this time is approximately 99. Based on the average price at which the bonds are to be issued they will return about 1.762 per cent to maturity.

Of the submitted tenders $5,[illegible],000 was accepted.

The bonds bear the unconditional guarantee of the government both as to principal and interest.

V.F.W. CEREMONY SET FOR SUNDAY, SEPT. 22

Women's Auxiliary To Post Will Be Instituted by Lima Group

Sunday, Sept. 22, was chosen as the date for the institution of the Women's auxiliary to Veterans Post No. 3213, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at a meeting of the members last night at the home of Mrs. Harry Straw of 1[illegible] Olney avenue.

The ceremonies will be held at 3 p. m. at the armory and will be followed by a dinner at 7:30. The work will be put on by a degree team from the Lima auxiliary with Mrs. Ruth Carpenter, a past state president, in charge.

Arrangements also were made for a benefit card party Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilbur Jarvey of 422 South [illegible] street. Mrs. Jarvey was named chairman of the committee in charge of the party, assisted by Mrs. Florence Firley and Mrs. Cuba Harrainan. Five new members were enrolled.

Mrs. Delsia Baker, president, named the following committees: Mrs. Margaret Morrison, Mrs. [illegible] Eddington and Mrs. Estella Baker, [illegible] Mrs. Mae Biddle, Mrs. Wilmina Lyren and Mrs. Ruth Meek, resolutions; Mrs. Cuba Harrainan, Mrs. Mildred Pickrel and Mrs. Florence Firley, [illegible]

Plans were discussed for a trip to Kenton Sept. 8 when the chapter will observe the closing of the charter. About 30 from Marion will attend the meeting and take part in a parade.

Lunch was served during a social hour in charge of Mrs. Ruth Meek, Mrs. Mary Napier and Mrs. Cuba Harrainan. The next meeting will be Sept. 11.

OUTRUN PATROLMAN

Girls Say They Ran Because They Were Skeered

"We ran because we were skeared."

That was the answer received by police from two colored girls who abandoned an automobile and took to their heels last night when Motorcycle Patrolman Henry Tong attempted to take them into custody on a charge of running through a red traffic signal at Church and Prospect streets.

They are Miss Arabelle Johnson, [illegible] of 1[illegible] Cayuga street and Miss Elly Ferguson, 26, of 282 Senate street.

Tong stopped them on West Church street after they ran the red light at the Prospect street intersection and told them to follow him to the police station. Instead they jumped from the car and ran. Officer Tong said he recognized Miss Ferguson and she was taken into custody last night while Miss Johnson, who was driving the car, came to the police station this morning. The latter was fined $2 when she pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning.
